

WOULD PAY BONDS IN YELLOW GOLD

CURRENCY PLAN PROPOSED BY PROF. DUNBAR.

Some New Theories Invoked—He Favors Money Based Upon Banking Assets and Retirement of Legal-Tender Obligations—Suggestions by Horace White.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Prof. Charles Dunbar, whose reputation upon financial and economic questions at Harvard university is well known, makes a strong argument in favor of bonds payable specifically in gold in his recommendations to the monetary commission. He also favors a currency based upon banking assets and the retirement of the legal-tender obligations of the government. What he says is as follows:

"The question whether the contraction of the currency would take place if the greenbacks were retired does not appear to me to present any difficulty. If we suppose a reform of the banknote system, which shall make the issue of banknotes depend upon ordinary considerations of banking policy, and not upon the expediency of investment in United States bonds or other special security. The business community instantly feels any deficiency of currency; the people are the creditors of the banks as depositors, and any demand of those creditors for active currency to supply their needs must be satisfied by the banks by the payment either from their cash or in banknotes.

"If we do not suppose any change in the banknote system, we have the case of a reduction of our paper circulation, perhaps not to the full amount of the outstanding greenbacks—for some increase of bank circulation in some parts of the country might still take place—but probably equal to the greater part of it. This reduction would be offset in a measure by gold liberated from the treasury, where it is now idle, and thrown into circulation in direct exchange for greenbacks, so that the actual deficiency to be made good probably could not rise above $200,000,000.

"Considering that in the last few years we have alternately extruded and absorbed gold by the hundred millions, there seems to be no reasonable doubt that by a moderately gradual process the place of the greenbacks could easily be filled by our own product, supplemented by imported gold. That the currency once established on this basis would be maintained by the automatic movement of gold—provided we do not ourselves interrupt this movement—appears to me to be shown by the experience of the other leading commercial nations."

Prof. Dunbar thinks that the "Baltimore plan" for resting the banknote issues upon the banking assets is, in its main features, "safe and practicable." He believes that the existence of a guaranty fund supported by a levy upon all issuing banks would tend to an increase of watchfulness in general. The full reports, now made five times a year, should be made by all banks monthly to the comptroller and also in every redemption district to some office or officer. The supervision of banks should be greatly increased.

In reply to the query, "What methods would you suggest by which uniformity of note issues based on assets could be secured throughout the country, and if by redemption, where and how?" Mr. Dunbar replies: "Understanding this question to refer to uniformity of value, it appears to me that a system of redemption as stringent as it ought to be would accomplish the object. The general outline might be redemption by every bank in a given district through a bank in the reserve city of the district, the redeeming banks in the city clearing with each other, and the reserve cities clearing as a common center."

Mr. Dunbar would fix the minimum capital of national banks at $200,000, his contention being that the present minimum is too small. He favors the establishment of branch banks, which carry national banks into communities that cannot be reached by independent banks of any reasonable capital. Branch banks, however, should not issue notes.

Horace White, whose book upon "Money and Banking" has attracted so much attention, has submitted some answers to the interrogatories of the monetary commission. Mr. White is an outspoken advocate of the retirement of the greenbacks and the adoption of an elastic banking currency based upon business assets. He declares that the silver dollars should be redeemed in gold and that in a financial sense there is no difference between the several forms of fiduciary circulation of which silver dollars are a part. "The latter," he declares, "are metallic greenbacks." He does not believe that the amount of circulation presented for redemption would be any greater than at present if silver were redeemable in gold. In answer to the questions regarding the maintenance of the gold standard, Mr. White says: "I would recommend the redemption, retirement and cancellation of all legal-tender notes as a first step. Probably the silver certificates and silver dollars would thereafter remain at par with gold, and would not be presented for redemption in any considerable amount, being needed like the smaller silver coins, for circulation in retail trade." Mr. White believes that in process of time it will not be possible to rely upon national bonds as security for bank-note issues, because of the extinction of the public debt.

DEMAND BANK DEPOSITS.

Anger Over Failures at English, Leavenworth and Marengo, Ind.

English, Ind., Nov. 15.—For thirty-six hours an infuriated mob stood in front of the banks in English, Leavenworth and Marengo, this county, which closed their doors Saturday, demanding the money due depositors. The fact that R. H. Willett, who had charge of the business of the three banks, is hiding somewhere outside the state is all that prevented the men from doing acts of violence. The failure is the most far-reaching that ever occurred in southern Indiana. All the county money was distributed among the three banks. As soon as the true condition of affairs became known the county superintendent of schools ordered the public schools closed pending an investigation. Perry county is also a sufferer, as all the fall installment of taxes just collected was in the three institutions. The friends of Mr. Willett say his mind has been unbalanced since the death of his mother several weeks ago. The general belief is that he lost the money speculating in wheat. His wife says he will not return to the scene of the disaster.

While the failure will perhaps not reach higher than $150,000, that sum disappearing from a county as poor and sparsely settled as the old whitcap county of Crawford touches the pocket of nearly every business man and farmer in the vicinity. Crawford is an agricultural county, and the failure was delayed until the farmers had deposited the money for their crops, permitting the bank wreckers to clean up a goodly sum.

Mormons in Conference.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15.—The Northern Indiana conference of the Church of Latter Day Saints began Saturday night, with twenty-four elders in attendance, all of whom have moved to this state from Utah within the last few years for the purpose of doing mission work. Presiding Elder Cardon, of Logan, Utah, said the work of the church was progressing rapidly and numerous converts have been added. The elders do not hesitate to discuss their former condition, when polygamy was one of the institutions of their church, but quote from their articles of faith that they are law-abiding, and have obeyed the mandate of the supreme court.

Better Day for All.

London, Nov. 15.—The Daily Chronicle in a special article on the meaning of the Canadian negotiations at Washington reviews the past commercial relations between Canada, Great Britain and the United States, and says: "Important communications have passed during the last few days between Downing street and Ottawa, and the cordial reception which the Canadian ministers are meeting at the hands of the Washington officials and the American press makes it quite possible that we are on the eve of a most happy change of attitude toward one another of the three countries."

Football Games Saturday.

Results of the principal football games played Saturday are as follows: Yale 0, Harvard 0; Wisconsin 23, Chicago 8; Michigan 14, Minnesota 0; Northwestern 25, Alumni 0; Pennsylvania 22, Wesleyan 0; Brown 18, Carlisle 14; Lafayette 19, Dickinson 0; Cornell 14; Williams 0; Yale freshmen 10, Princeton freshmen 0; Nebraska 10, Kansas 5; Beloit 42, Lake Forest 0; Detroit Athletic Club 12, Duquesne Athletic club 0; Indiana 22, Miami 8; Galesburg 20, Monmouth 4.

Autonomy Is Deferred.

London, Nov. 15.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: "At the request of Marshal Blanco the government has postponed to the 25th of November the publication of the decree of autonomy for the West Indies. This is with a view of gazetting all the reforms at the same time and of allowing Marshal Blanco meanwhile to push operations against the insurgents and to complete the reorganization of the colony."

Few Children in Indiana Factories.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 15.—State Factory Inspector D. H. McAbee is traveling over the state visiting every manufacturing concern to satisfy himself that the law prohibiting the employment of children below the statutory age is being observed. He has nearly completed his tour of the Indiana gas belt, and states that but few instances of violation have come to his notice.

Say the Skull Was Broken.

Vinton, Iowa, Nov. 15.—Two sensational features marked the Novak trial Saturday. One was the testimony that the skull of Edward Murray was broken before his body was burned in the fire at Walford, and the other was the story of the detective who brought Novak from Alaska, and to whom an alleged confession was made.

Silver Mines on Fire.

Aspen, Col., Nov. 15.—The timbers in the lower workings of the Smuggler mine are on fire, and notwithstanding efforts to check the fire it seems to be gaining headway. The damage cannot be estimated at this time.

MINERS ON STRIKE DESPITE OF PLANS

BRAIDWOOD DISTRICT OF ILLINOIS IS IDLE

Determined To Win a Victory—Complete Suspension Has Been Agreed Upon Except at Carbon Hill—Strikers and Their Leaders Hope to Secure Arbitration.

Braidwood, Ill., Nov. 15.—With the exception of Carbon Hill the miners of this district have succeeded in bringing about a complete suspension again, and at a secret meeting held in Coal City Saturday night arrangements were made to again tie up the Carbon Hill mines if it becomes necessary. The officers assert their confidence in their ability to do this, but they refuse to discuss the means to be employed.

There are men in Carbon Hill who do not want to quit work again. Among these are the men who made the proposition which reopened the mines and under which the miners have been working for the last two days. It is an open question whether these men will offer any resistance, but it is certain that it would avail them nothing if they did, for the reason that the men from the other mines have had time to think the matter over calmly, and it is now their judgment that all should stand together until the operators have conceded the Springfield scale for gross weight, or mine run mining, or having failed to gain this concession, until an impartial arbitration board has named the figure at which they shall return to their underground homes.

The last twenty-four hours have been filled with more excitement and feeling than has marked the strike since its inception. Braceville, which was first to vote to return to work, voted unanimously to come out again. This may mean a great deal to the men in that mine, for the reason that Sunday the company posted a notice that those who do not return to work may consider themselves discharged, and they are instructed to take their tools out of the mine. There is also the implied threat that the company will immediately begin hiring new men. The miners say this latter phase of the question at Braceville does not worry them very much, as they do not believe men are to be had, and that even if they do come the men at Braceville will be able to take care of them.

At a meeting of the miners here the strike was unanimously decided on. The meeting appointed a committee representing the men in Braidwood, Braceville, the Big Four and the Diamond mines to attend a conference in Coal City to-day for the purpose of devising means for getting the Carbon Hill men out. This conference decided to hold a meeting in Carbon Hill last night, and the men went there in wagons, carriages and whatever conveyances were at hand, and those who could not get a ride walked the distance between the two points.

There had been no intimation that there was to be a meeting at Carbon Hill, but the news of the arrival of the delegation spread like wildfire, and at 7:30 o'clock the hall in the little town was packed by native miners. The situation was explained to them at length, and they were given an opportunity to voice their sentiments. No attempt was made to get an expression from them by vote, but after the meeting was over the officers expressed themselves as being satisfied, and declared that they had such control over the men that they would be able to get them out at any time such action was deemed expedient.

Sec'y Ryan has been in communication with the operators regarding the proposition to arbitrate, and he expects an answer to-day. If the operators consent, it is probable that the meeting will be held in Chicago Tuesday.

McIntosh Acquitted at Butler, Ind.

Butler, Ind., Nov. 15.—W. S. McIntosh, who was charged with having defrauded DeKalb county of $50,000, was declared not guilty by the jury. McIntosh was indicted with three county officials who pleaded guilty and were sent to the penitentiary. They testified at the trial that so far as they knew McIntosh had nothing to do with the affair.

Sultan Ready for War.

London, Nov. 15.—The usually well-informed correspondent of the Times at Vienna says: "The relations between Bulgaria and the porte are strained. The sultan is preparing for all eventualities, and 100,000 Turkish soldiers are echeloned on the Bulgarian frontier, armed with Mausers, and amply provided with horses and guns."

Alluvial Gold Fields Found.

Perth, West Australia, Nov. 15.—An alluvial gold field has been discovered 38 miles from Kurnalpi. Gold seekers are obtaining about half an ounce daily.

A Secret to Be Guarded.

"After all," said Mr. Millegdeville to Mr. Mobile, "your wife is a very handsome woman." "She is indeed," replied Mr. Mobile. "So long as she doesn't let her temper loose on one suspects that I married her for her money."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

INDIANS LYNCHED IN SPITE OF LAW

NORTH DAKOTA MURDER AVENGED BY A MOB.

Work Done Calmly and Well—Twenty Five Masked Men at Williamsport, S. D., Arouse from Sleep and Hang Paul Holytrack, Philip Ireland and Alec Coudot.

Bismarck, N. D., Nov. 15.—Twenty-five masked men took the law into their own hands Sunday morning at the county jail in Williamsport, Emons county. They left the bodies of three men, who had been accused of murder, swaying in the wind as a testimonial of the completeness of their revenge.

The men were Paul Holytrack, Philip Ireland and Alec Coudot, Indians, who were under arrest accused of the murder of six members of the Spicer family last winter at Winona, Emons county. They were aroused from slumber at 2 o'clock in the morning, dragged from the jail to a beef windlass that stood near the jail, and were hanged to a bar that served to suspend the carcasses of slaughtered animals.

The crime for which the men were thus executed by the mob was the murder of six members of the Spicer family, near Winona, last winter. The bodies of Thomas Spicer, his wife, his daughter, Mrs. Rouse, and her twin children, and of Mrs. Ellen Waldron, his mother-in-law, were found at the Spicer home, all terribly mutilated.

Paul Holytrack and Philip Ireland, two of the men who were lynched, had already confessed having assisted in the murders. Their narrative was so revolting as to arouse indignation to fever heat. The confession of the two implicated Coudot, the third of the victims, and two other Indians, Black Hawk and George Defender, who are at present confined in the jail in this city, to which fact is due their escape from the fate of their comrades.

Fear that the men would escape punishment for their crime led to the tragedy enacted Saturday night. The lynching of the men was evidently carefully planned. Late Saturday night a party of twenty-five masked men rode from the surrounding country into the vicinity of Williamsport, tied their horses where they could be easily and quickly secured, and made their way to the jail. After the execution of the men they rode away as hastily and quietly as they had come. There was no noise, no disorder, and everything was conducted with a firmness and determination that bespoke the earnest intent of the members of the mob.

The Indians who were executed were residents of the Standing Rock Indian reservation. Two of them—Holytrack and Ireland—were mere boys, one 20 and the other 17 years of age. Coudot was a French and Indian half-breed and leaves a widow and family.

URGES POSTAL BANKS.

Postmaster General Gary Warmly Expounds Their Cause.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Earnest advocacy of the establishment of postal savings banks by the United States government is the feature of the first annual report of Postmaster General Gary.

Incalculable benefit and no detriment are seen in the adoption of the system. The calling forth from its hiding place of untold millions of hoarded wealth is predicted as a certain result. The investment of this vast sum in safe channels, backed by the government assurance against loss will, it is pointed out, redound not only to the benefit of small savers, but to that of the entire financial and business community of the nation. Opposition to the plan is seen alone in private institutions engaged in similar enterprise, but it is held that private selfishness should not be allowed to stand in the way of public good. France and Great Britain, which for years have carefully fostered postal savings banks, are pointed to for proof of the merits of the system.

The estimates of the revenues and expenditures for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1899, are: Total postal revenue for 1897, $82,665,462.73; add 5 per cent., $4,133,273.13. Estimated revenue for 1898, $86,798,735.86; add 7 per cent., $6,075,911.51. Total estimated revenue for 1899, $92,874,647.37; estimated expenditures for 1898, $98,922,760; deficiency for 1899, estimated $6,048,112.63.

Dies Suddenly in Church.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 15.—Joseph M. Tifford, proprietor of the Indianapolis Journal from 1854 to 1864, suddenly expired in his pew at the Downey Avenue church in Irvington Sunday morning. He was seized with a fit of coughing, and he was dead before friends could carry him from the church. He was a Kentuckian, and in his eighty-seventh year. He was a member of the first class of Hanover college and was well known over the state, having helped to found and build four churches.

Secretary Alger Much Better.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Secretary Alger, who is ill with an attack of tonsillitis, is reported much better. The secretary is still confined to his room, and it will be some days before he can resume his official duties.

GOLD FIND IN WYOMING.

Big Rush Expected Into the New Field Near Grand Encampment.

Rawlins, Wyo., Nov. 15.—The state has a gold find which is expected to cause a bigger rush than the Leadville or Cripple Creek affair. The spot is in the very center of the Sierra Madre range, on the Continental divide, and sixty miles from the nearest railway station. It is four miles from the new town of Grand Encampment. A white quartz surface float in Purgatory gulch has been found to hold $3,512 for each ton of its weight. News has reached here of two rich strikes in the newly discovered district on a lead discovered by some Colorado prospectors. The lead is a two-foot streak of white quartz. Two samples have been assayed. The first gave $1,744 in gold to the ton and the second $582.

Four miles southwest of the new town of Grand Encampment is a mountain largely covered with golden float. The float on this mountain is by far the richest yet discovered in the camp. Pieces no larger than a hen's egg have been found to run from 50 cents to $1 of pure gold.

AFFECTS BARTLEY'S CASE.

Attorney-General Smyth Asked to Argue the Barrett Scott Matter.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 15.—Attorney-General Smyth has been requested by the supreme court to submit a brief in the Barrett Scott case. This is the famous case growing out of the defalcation of Scott, treasurer of Holt county, whom the vigilantes hanged when they discovered that his political friends would try to keep him out of prison. The court has requested Mr. Smyth to cover two points not argued by the county attorney of Holt county. The approval of the Scott bond out of time and the estoppel of sureties are the two questions which the supreme court desires the attorney-general to argue. The Scott case is considered of greater importance by lawyers and the public because it involves the same points which will come before the court in the case of ex-State Treasurer Bartley.

Where the Regiments Stood.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 15.—Gov. Hastings was not able to attend the two regimental dedications which occurred at the National Chickamauga Park Sunday afternoon, having contracted a slight cold. The monument of the Seventy-eighth regiment was formally dedicated at 3 o'clock, Col. Blakeley, president of the Pennsylvania battlefield commission, presiding. The oration was delivered by Col. R. P. Scott, president of the Seventy-eighth regiment organization. The Twenty-sixth Pennsylvania battery monument was also dedicated in the afternoon. Lieut. Riehl, of Pittsburg, being the orator of the occasion.

Michael Sets New Mark.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Careful scrutiny of the times made by Jimmy Michael in his twenty-five mile race with Fred Titus at the Coliseum Saturday night reveals the fact that the mile indoor bicycle record was broken. In the fifth mile the Welshman covered the distance in 1:57 4-5, thereby clipping the record a fifth of a second. The ride was truly a wonderful one. On an eight-lap indoor board track that was hardly banked high enough to permit such fast time the midget shattered his own mark. Michael while at Memphis in 1896 established 1:58 for the mile indoor record.

Holds Garnishee Law Void.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 15.—Judge Ryan of the superior court handed down two very important rulings Saturday. In the first he declared the new garnishee law discriminated against the working classes and as class legislation was unconstitutional. In the second he decided that, even though attorney's fees were provided in a note or foreclosure, collection could not be forced; this on the grounds that they were a portion of the original consideration.

Sovereign Has Ambition.

Louisville, Nov. 15.—J. R. Sovereign, the retiring general master workman of the Knights of Labor, resigned his position in order that he might push his candidacy for president of the United States in 1900. He will spend all his spare time disseminating his views and in the general agitation of all the principles which the Knights of Labor advocate.

South American Crops.

London, Nov. 15.—A dispatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres says that frost has damaged the harvest in the Argentine republic at least 10 per cent. The correspondent of the Times at Valparaiso, Chili, says that the harvest of cereals will be one-third greater than it was last year, while crops of all kinds promise above the average.

Indian School Set on Fire.

Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 15.—There were two fires in the girls' quarters at the Indian school Sunday night. The damage was slight. Both fires, it is said, were set by mischiefmakers. In this school about 300 girls are quartered.

No Demonstration for Weyler.

Madrid, Nov. 15.—According to a dispatch from Corunna the partisans of Lieut.-Gen. Weyler have abandoned the idea of a demonstration in his favor on the arrival of the Montserrat.

A HOT FIRE RAGES AT CALUMET MINE

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE DONE THIS MORNING

Loss Will Be Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars—Men Hemmed In But Are Safe—Buildings to Be Rebuilt—Antigo Bank In Trouble—State News

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 15.—[Special]—Fire broke out in the Calumet & Hecla Mine buildings this morning from spontaneous combustion, and the main buildings were badly damaged. Men working on the eleventh level were hemmed in, but were finally released without loss of life. The loss on the buildings is $25,000. They will be rebuilt.

Wisconsin Bank Goes Under.

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 15.—The people of this city were greatly surprised Saturday on finding posted on the door of the Bank of Antigo a notice signed by B. C. Borgman, the president, saying the bank had been closed by the board of directors, and that application had been made for a receiver, owing to the discovery of irregularities in the cashier's books. C. B. McDonald, vice president and director, said that the bank's finances were unimpaired and that over 50 per cent of the entire deposits is in its vaults at the present time.

Another "Mrs. Leutger."

Eau Claire, Wis., Nov. 15.—A woman nearly 40 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds, gained admittance to the Sacred Heart hospital Saturday, but becoming violent in her actions, was removed to comfortable quarters at the county jail. Her talk is incoherent, and she is thought to be insane. The officials cannot learn her name or any information to show whence she came. A local newspaper says the woman may be Mrs. A. L. Leutger.

CUBANS FULL OF HOPE.

Declare That Spanish Rule Can Last but a Few Months.

Washington, Nov. 15.—It is said that the portion of the President's message relating to Cuba will not be prepared until the very last thing, as it is the desire of the executive to treat of the subject upon information right down to date. Events are likely to march with great rapidity upon the Spanish stage, and conclusions reached one day might have to be changed the next in important particulars. The failure of Spain to float a small loan of $15,000,000 shows the desperate financial straits to which that country has been reduced, and there may be reason for the Cuban belief that the island may have to be abandoned by the mother country at an early date. The developments of the next three weeks may change entirely the tenor of the President's message.

At no time since the insurrection began, nearly three years ago, have the Cubans been in such a state of exaltation as they are at this moment. They may be arguing from mistaken premises, but they feel that they have the Spanish on the run and that the evacuation of Cuba by the Spanish soldiers will take place within the next few months. Karl Decker, the American correspondent, who enjoys the full confidence of General Gomez, and who has left for Cuba to go on Gomez's staff, said the day before yesterday, on the eve of his departure, that he fully expected to march into Havana with General Gomez at the head of a triumphant army within ninety days. He says the Cubans were never so strong as they are now, and never so well equipped and prepared for aggressive warfare. He says, also, that the Spaniards are cowed and lukewarm, besides being greatly weakened by disease and insufficient food and shelter. It is his belief and that of other Cuban leaders that a signal victory by the insurgents will be followed by wholesale desertions from the Spanish army, a movement which will be followed by the speedy collapse of effective opposition. These views are unquestionably those of the rank and file of the insurgents, and if they should be confirmed by the facts later on, the President's expressions to congress might be greatly effected thereby.

$100,000 Fire Loss at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 15.—Fire broke out at 10:30 o'clock last night in the Nutriment Company's plant, Forty-ninth court and Halsted street, causing a loss of nearly $100,000. The stock, valued at $50,000, and composed of pepsin, nutritious foods and chemicals, was entirely consumed. There is an additional loss of $40,000 on the building and machinery. Several employees are sufferers from $75 to $150 each, as all their implements were destroyed. The insurance is $50,000.

Dr. Susan Edison Is Dead.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Dr. Susan A. Edison, one of the best known physicians in the country, and the late President Garfield's attendant during the illness following the Giteau shooting, died here Friday night. She was 74 years old.

Woodford Confers With Moret.

Madrid, Nov. 15.—Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, the United States minister, has had a conference with Senor Moret, the minister for the colonies, and discussed with him the prohibition of the export of tobacco from Cuba.

REV. D. W. HULBURT ON SOUL WINNING

BAPTIST STATE MISSIONARY PREACHES HERE.

He Conducts Both Morning and Evening Services—Rev. Edward H. Pence Tells of God's Word—Rev. A. W. Hall Speaks on the Theme, "How To Use God."

Rev. D. W. Hulburt, state missionary of the Wisconsin Baptist State convention, preached morning and evening. His morning texts were in Prov. 11, 30 and John 1, 41, 2. His subject was "Soul Winning."

Our first business as Christians is to win men to Jesus Christ. Jesus didn't say try but he said "go and make disciples." You must try to bring forth fruit. He ordained us to success. It is a good thing to have a sweet feast in a prayer meeting but our business is to win men to Christ. It is not enough to win the respect of men, but we are to win them to Christ. You can get a man to reform but that is not enough. Get him to accept Christ. You can even get a man to church, or even church membership and not be united to Christ. A person who is not spirit born Christian has no business in a church, and one who is a spirit born Christian has no place outside of the church.

It is not enough to be almost a Christian but we must be fully into the kingdom of Christ. His will is our will and we live for him.

Notice some qualifications for soul winners.

1. You must know Christ yourself.
2. You must have a deep love for the souls of men. If you want your love to men to increase, do something for men.
3. We must be filled with the Holy Spirit.

How are souls to be brought to men? It is to be done through the gospel. Preach the gospel. It may be that you will only have one listener, but if you preach the pure gospel of Christ, you will win men. Get men to listen to the gospel. Every one of you, preachers, teachers in the Sunday school, all can preach the gospel of Jesus. Do personal work and you will make men know that you love them and that you are interested in their welfare, and you can lead men to Jesus. We ought to use every means that God gives us to win men to Jesus.

The Y. P. C. E. was led by Miss Lizzie Morris. The topic was, "The Blessedness of Serving Christ."

The Evening Service

At the evening service Mr. Hulburt took for his subject, "The Young Man That Lacked One Thing."

What is the difference between one who is a Christian and one who is not? This young man had all that he wanted, but one thing troubled him. He must meet eternity. He wanted to do something that he might have eternal life. You may keep all of the ten commandments and yet not have eternal life. You may be moral and believe in God, but not be eternally saved. You can believe in the goodness of Christ and not be a Christian. Christ revealed to this young man himself. Every life centers somewhere. The Christian is one whose life centers in God. His will is subject to God in all things. The young man's life centered in his worldly possessions. He could not stand the test. He must give up, and take up. Give up the worldly possessions, and take up his cross. Every Christian must be willing to give up his all, and we must be willing to take up our cross and follow Jesus. Being sorrowful, is not enough, we must not turn away, but follow Christ.

He wanted to do something that he might have eternal life. You may keep all of the ten commandments and yet not have eternal life. You may be moral and believe in God, but not be eternally saved. You can believe in the goodness of Christ and not be a Christian. Christ revealed to this young man himself. Every life centers somewhere. The Christian is one whose life centers in God. His will is subject to God in all things. The young man's life centered in his worldly possessions. He could not stand the test. He must give up, and take up. Give up the worldly possessions, and take up his cross. Every Christian must be willing to give up his all, and we must be willing to take up our cross and follow Jesus. Being sorrowful, is not enough, we must not turn away, but follow Christ.

particular its temptations. It will strengthen us and enable us to resist temptation. We must also bring this spiritual frame of mind to our burdens. Every one's life is filled with burdens, but God says to Paul and all of us, "My strength is sufficient for you." Reciprocally, we must bring our burdens, our services, up to that spiritual temper of mind for judgment and correction. We are often times afraid to bring our daily life up for our spiritual eyes to contemplate. In our physical life we learn to do things involuntarily and without conscious effort, and it may become just so in our spiritual life. We grow spiritually so that we do not have to watch our words and our deeds, but the upward look to God works down into our daily living and ourself, consciousness is taken away. We have no necessity now to watch our feet, for "mine eyes are ever turned toward the Lord, and he will pluck my feet out of the net."

REV. MR. HALL'S FINE ADDRESS
Court Street Pastor Preaches on "How To Use God."

The audience at Court Street M. E. church yesterday morning was entertained by some choice selections by a male quartette, composed of Mr. Church, Mr. Paris, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Wilson.

The sermon by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Hall, was founded on one of the psalms and the topic was, "How To Use God." The speaker said that man was strong in proportion to his appropriation of material things. Man plus a horse is stronger than man alone, man plus an engine, is stronger than man plus a horse. Man applies steam, electricity, and the subtle forces of nature, and thus adds to his strength. The man with well equipped mind and brain, is stronger than the man in ignorance.

As God the great creator, wants us to appropriate material force, so he wants his creatures to apply spiritual forces. Mind energy is wasted in the work of life by not knowing how to apply the forces about us.

If we would use God, it is all important that we know Him just the same as we must know the hidden forces of electricity in order to apply them. The degree of knowledge determines the degree of application. It is possible to know something about God in nature, in science, in the revelations of the material world about us but the man who uses God to the best advantage is the man who studies His divine character in his inspired word.

If we would use God we must know His will concerning us and then we must be willing to conform our wills to the all wise will of an all wise God. When we use God to the best advantage we place ourselves at His feet and say, "Lord What Wilt Thou Have Me to Do?"

Progress in the material world is moving on with rapid strides. Progress in the spiritual realm will keep pace with the material, when we come to know God as He is.

TWO SERMONS BY BELOIT PASTOR

Congregationalists Addressed by Rev. Dr. Leavitt—A Missionary Talk

Dr. George B. Leavitt filled the pulpit of the Congregational church Sunday, exchanging with Rev. Mr. Denison. His subject was "Why We Make So Much of the Study of the Bible." He pointed out many marks of the influence of the bible on literature and history and gave pertinent suggestions as to methods of study.

In the evening Dr. Leavitt gave a missionary talk bearing on his visit to the Orient. He dwelt especially upon the extent of the missions, their growth and needs, and was heard with manifest appreciation.

SOCIAL JOYS RULE IN MANY HOMES

PLEASANT GATHERINGS HELD SATURDAY EVENING.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Doty Entertain Friends of Years Ago—John H. Nicholson Plays Host For Brother Travelers—Musical-Literary Club To Meet—Some Other Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Doty entertained delightfully Saturday evening the guests being members of a social circle that used to meet several years ago. The event was in honor of Lieut. Frank Bostwick. Each guest received a souvenir and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Minerva Guernsey-King gave a recitation from Dickens that was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. E. P. Doty sang "Cavalleria Rusticana" and was obliged to respond to an encore. Lieut. Frank Bostwick, who has spent considerable time in Japan sang a song of his own composition in the Japanese language. A flash light photo was taken of the party as they stood grouped in one corner of the parlor and after the company had joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" the reunion came to an end. The guests were:

Madames—Harriet Torrens, Oscar King, Lake Geneva; James J. Hall, Mary E. Doty, Miss C. V. Reddy, J. B. Dearborn, Robert M. Bostwick, E. P. Doty, W. E. Evenson.

TERSE TALES OF THE TOWN

GAMPS and goloshes.

WHERE is that cold wave?

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

WITH THE YARDMASTER.

A FEW days ago, I heard a good joke told on a prominent Janesville attorney. As no names were mentioned; I will substitute such names as Roe and Doe. This incident was a legal scintillation was foreclosing a mortgage on real estate. In looking over the records he discovered an old judgment in favor of Richard Roe as administrator of the estate of John Doe deceased; which was a lien upon the real estate covered by the mortgage, but subsequent thereto. The attorney was well acquainted with deceased Richard Roe, while he was on earth and the question bobbed up as to how he could get service, was out of the question. He knowing that only a cyclone could head off a lawyer, he started to post up. After consulting the revised statutes, then wading into Blackstone, Kent, Washburn Greenleaf and other legal works, he concluded that service by publication would be the proper proceeding to get service on said Richard Roe, so he made application to the circuit judge for an order of publication. He set out in his affidavit for the order of publication, the necessary facts to procure said order which read:

"That said Richard Roe, defendant, is a proper party to this action, for the reason that said action is brought for the purpose of purchasing a mortgage on real estate, on which Richard Roe has a judgment lien, and that he is a non-resident of this state and has been for several years last past, and that his residence is unknown." As the application was an ex parte one, the circuit judge made the order for publication without reading the same. The order was substantially as follows:

"It appearing to the satisfaction of court, upon the affidavit of the plaintiff's attorney, that the summons and complaint were given to the sheriff of Rock county for the purpose of serving the same on said defendant, Richard Roe. And that said sheriff was unable with due diligence, and upon making inquiry to serve said summons upon said defendant Richard Roe. And that said Richard Roe is dead and is a non-resident of this state. And that he is a necessary and proper party to this action. It is therefore ordered by the court, that service of the summons be made by publication in the Janesville Daily Recorder, designated as the paper most likely to give notice to the said defendant Richard Roe, not less than once a week for six weeks. That on or before the day of the first publication the plaintiff deposit in the post office at Janesville, a copy of the summons and complaint, securely enclosed in an envelope and postage duly paid, addressed to said defendant, Richard Roe, at his present post office address.

Richard Roe going away without leaving his address will no doubt delay the proceedings. I would suggest that the Daily Recorder be soaked in acetone before mailing as Mr. Roe's present address is doubtful. In Rock county the Daily Gazette claims the largest circulation, but beyond the great divide it has no subscribers. If Mr. Roe could come to live for a moment and read that summons, and hear that painful cry of:

"Richard Roe come into court!"—he would heave a sigh, and then drop dead again. PRESS WOODRUFF.

RAIN HELPS THE TOBACCO.

Leaf Softened, But Not Sufficiently to Develop. Buying.

Milton, Wis., Nov. 14.—Recent rains were not of sufficient magnitude to put the hanging crop of tobacco in case, but were nevertheless beneficial. The leaf was softened by the rain, but not enough to permit of an examination, consequently buying is at a standstill. At Janesville the market for cured leaf shows a slight improvement. Recent transactions include fifty cases 1896 sold to J. L. & M. F. Green, thirty eight cases by S. B. Heddies, 216 cases by Fisher & Fisher, eighty five cases old goods by Rudolph, H. Villard & Co.; seventy five cases by Joseph Grundy, 125 cases by J. A. Ryan, 244 cases 1896 by W. F. Carle and fifty cases by Peterson & Rollefson.

Heming, of Stoughton, has bought 150 cases of 1893 and 1895, chiefly in this locality, and at Edgerton J. H. Hutton has picked up sixty cases from growers, and A. Jensen has sold 103 cases of 1894.

The 5,000-case packing of Joseph Meyers' Sons, at Stoughton, has just been sampled and shows the goods to be in fine condition.

Mr. Miller, of that place, the heaviest buyer perhaps in the state, has finished shipping his purchases to the east, forty-one carloads going out last week. This was the largest consignment that ever left the state from a single local dealer in that length of time, representing in value nearly $100,000.

Several warehouses are being built at Janesville, Edgerton and Stoughton. They are to be completed in time for handling the new crop. Cities and villages in the tobacco belt anticipate activity this winter.

Wild Cat Speculation and Gambling Followed by Smash of Banks.

Mines in old Mexico, bogus deals in real estate, stock and even race-track gambling are as recent disclosures following bank smash ups in New York show, all in the line of the rumors of the "bucket-shops" on a gigantic scale in that city and elsewhere, who have controlled many millions of gullible people's money. But there is a line of investment that has something more than a speculative prospect of success, and that is an investment in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters if you are troubled with constipation, biliousness, malaria, kidney trouble, or loss of strength or nerve quietude. Security against disease, no less than delivery from its clutches, is assured to those who seek the aid of this peerless preventive. In the preliminary stages of rheumatism, a disease difficult of annihilation in its chronic phase, and always dangerous because it is prone to attack the heart, the Bitters are a most desirable substitute for the poisons ineffectually used to eradicate it.

Garrison Wreck Inquiry.

Cold Springs, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The coroner's investigation of the recent wreck on the New York Central and Hudson railroad at Garrisons has been resumed here. Abram R. Sparrow, division roadmaster of Peekskill, testified that the tracks at the scene of the accident had never been moved in or out. This was in contradiction to the testimony of Michael Clare, former section master, who testified that the company moved the tracks outward in order to reduce the curve. He said he thought the accident was caused by the engine jumping the track and that the engine plowed out the bank and wall as it plunged into the river.

Baden Will Not Retire.

Vienna, Nov. 15.—Count Baden, the premier, replying in the unterhaus to the proposal to impeach the ministers, declared that those who thought or hoped the government would efface itself or the cabinet retire were very much mistaken. Nothing of the kind would happen, he said, let their opponents be never so much disappointed. In concluding, he asked the rival parties to agree to a truce among themselves.

Private Cars for Diaz.

La Junta, Colo., Nov. 15.—Two handsome private cars, elegantly furnished, and with all the latest appliances, passed here southbound over the Santa Fe. They were from the Pullman Car company, and were said to be a present to President Diaz from his government. They bore no lettering, except the Mexican coat of arms and the letters "R. M."

A Check to Drought.

Sydney, N. S. W., Nov. 15.—The official report of the irrigation by artesian wells in the Bourke district shows the work to have been a great success and to have given an immense stimulus to agriculture. Apparently 62,000 square miles of the interior of New South Wales are irrigable by the same means.

You can't afford to risk your life by allowing a cold to develop into pneumonia or consumption. Instant relief and a certain cure are afforded by One Minute Cough Cure. C. D. Stevens.

Matrimonial Item.

"Where are you going in such a hurry?" asked Hostetter McGinnis of Johnnie Fewcades.

"I am going to old Bondelipper to ask for the hand of his daughter."

"Which one?"

"That all depends on what sort of a humor he is in. If he is in good humor I'll propose for the youngest. If he has a cranky spell I'll propose for the oldest."—N. Y. World.

Not to Be Caught.

Mrs. Grouch—I heard of a man who broke himself of swearing by paying his wife five cents every time he uttered an oath.

Mr. Grouch—Oh, no, you don't!

"Don't what?"

"Get me into any snap like that. You'd be furnishing burned steak and soggy biscuits every morning."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Missed a Great Opportunity.

"I wonder who invented kissing?" he said, after they had had one.

"Oh, some fool," she replied.

"How can you say that?" he asked.

"Because, if he had not been a fool he would have patented the process."

Then they had another.—Town Topics.

The Stranded Company.

They had a patent rain machine, and thunder they could make.

A snow-box also they possessed that really took the cake.

At their behest the breaking waves the hearers' ears bedinned.

But still one element defied—they couldn't raise the wind. —Chicago Journal.

In Confidence.

The Fiancee—When I was a small boy, Alice, I was given to ringing door-bells and running away.

The Fiancee—But you don't do anything like that now, I suppose?

The Fiancee—I came near doing it the night I called on your father to ask his consent.—Puck.

You can't cure consumption but you can avoid it and cure every other form of throat or lung trouble by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. C. D. Stevens.

There Is a Class of People

Who are injured by the use of coffee. Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few call it from coffee. It does not cost over 15c as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15c and 25c. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

DRESS GOODS!

The most level-headed men and women have hobbies—our's seems to be 49 cent dress goods; things that the manufacturer made to sell at 75 cents to $1.00. Here are

Fifty Choice Fall and Winter Novelties,

in wool, and silk and wool, illuminated, and shaded checks; stripes and mixtures; 75 cents couldn't command equal beauty a little while

When you see them you will say: The reach of 49 cents seems to be greater than ever, spite of the tariff stiffening.

BORT, BAILEY &amp; CO.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year it sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in laundry drying. It makes flowing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural white ness, and imparts to linen, blue and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

czarina of Russia.

1890—Professor Frank Geckes, a noted musician and patron of musical art, died in St.

Louis; born 1824.

Old Theory Exploded.

"Children, come in! It is getting late."

"Mamma, we're only watching the stars."

"That may be, but it isn't good for your health to stay out watching the stars as late as this."

"What's the use of talking that way, mamma? We've been reading up. Astronomers live longer than anybody else."—Chicago Tribune.

It Was a Bargain.

She—How nicely you did that! And would—would you care to always repair my punctures?

He—Darling, it would be the greatest joy of my life for me to do so—if you would promise to darn my socks in return.

So they rode along in search of a parson.—Cleveland Leader.

The Way of the World.

New styles the old ones must supplant,

And women, up to date,

Now wear their hats set on askant

Instead of prim and straight.

And husbands everywhere they say

Will now be forced to hear

This newer question, day by day,

"Is my hat on crooked, dear?"

—L. A. W. Bulletin.

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

"Did yer shove me?"
"No-o, sir-r!"
"Well, why don't yer?"—N. Y. Journal.

Bad Form.
Though the cow has repose,
Her manners aren't right,
For she always chews tolu
From morning till night.
—Chicago Record.

Explained.
"He doesn't look like a poet, does he?"
"Is he one?"
"Well, I was told that a good deal of his time was devoted to meter."
"Oh, that has no poetical significance.
He's an inspector for a gas company."
"Then he's in the field of romance at any rate."—Chicago Post.

A Pointed Question.
Miss Elderly—I declare, I was so flustrated when Mr. Blecker called that I'm sure he will think I acted like a goose.
Miss Younger—Well, you certainly don't expect him to think a woman of your age would act like a spring chicken, do you?—Chicago News.

Acted Her Part Well.
She—Do you remember, Frank, the night you proposed to me, I hung my head and said nothing?
He—Do I remember it! Well, I should rather say I did! It was the last time I saw you act so!—Yonkers Statesman.

Fragile.
He—Miss Roseleaf's complexion is very delicate.
She (without the least touch of malice, of course)—Very; I've known a single application of soap and water to ruin it.—Judge.

A Great Drawback.
"Why, I'd like to know," said a lady to a judge, "cannot a woman become a successful lawyer?"
"Because she's too fond of giving her opinion without pay," answered the judge.—Tit-Bits.

Family Troubles.
"The Skittles next door are not on speaking terms."
"What is the matter?"
"He told her he would go to Alaska and get rich, and then he backed out."

BRIGHT CHILDREN

Munyon Looks Out for the Little Ones.

A MOTHER'S RESPONSIBILITY.

Munyon never forgets the children. He realizes a mother's responsibility and is ever ready to give her the benefit of his knowledge and experience. Munyon's Guide to Health, which may be obtained free from any druggist, is especially explicit in describing all children's diseases, and gives plain and complete instructions regarding their treatment. Sickness often comes suddenly, and every mother should be prepared by having MUNYON'S REMEDIES where she can get them quickly. They are absolutely harmless, and so labeled there can be no mistake.

Munyon's Colic and Crying Baby Cure cures bilious colic, painter's colic in children, and gripping pains of every description, promptly relieves hysteria, sleeplessness, pain from teething, and quiets crying babies. Munyon's Sore Throat Cure effects a prompt cure in diphtheria, and every form of sore throat. Munyon's Fever Cure will break any form of fever. It should be administered as soon as the fever appears. Munyon's Worm Cure causes the prompt removal of pin worms, anal worms, intestinal worms, and tape worms. Munyon's Whooping Cough Cure is thoroughly reliable. It relieves at once and cures promptly. Munyon's Croup Cure positively controls all forms of croup. A separate cure for each disease. At all druggists, mostly 25 cents a vial. Personal letter to Prof. Munyon, 1505 Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa., answered with free medical advice for any disease.

DURING WAR.

Man Who Passed Bozuz Check Served His Country, and Suffered the Agonies of Andersonville Prison—Sent To Waupun For One Year—Arquett Is Sentenced.

G. L. Hawley, alias A. C. Curtiss, a man who fought in the Union army for five years during the rebellion, and spent one year of his life in Andersonville prison after his capture by the rebels, stood before Judge Bennett at the bar of the circuit court this morning.

Forgery was the charge made against Hawley, and the next twelve months of his life will be spent at Waupun.

When Hawley's case was called, his attorney, Con Buckley of Beloit, stated that his client would withdraw his plea of not guilty, and plead guilty to the charge.

When asked if he had anything to say, the prisoner told the story of his life. His military record was one that any man might be proud of. When he was but sixteen years of age, he enlisted in a Pennsylvania company, and the next five years and three months were spent in the union service, Hawley's company being with the army of the Potomac.

Taken to Andersonville.

During one of the battles in which his company took part, Hawley was taken prisoner by the rebels. He was then transported to Andersonville, where, he says, he suffered untold agonies. He bears the scars of several wounds, and draws a pension of $20 a month.

At the conclusion of Hawley's statement Judge Bennett sentenced him to one year at Waupun, his term to begin at noon today.

Hawley passed a forged check at the Grand Hotel in Beloit. Afterward he hired a rig to drive to Rockton. Marshal Appleby followed and arrested him at Rockton, just as he was about to take the train. He had tied the horse to a fence and intended leaving it there. Marshal Appleby gave him the choice of going to Rockford or Beloit, and he decided to go to Beloit. Later he was brought here. He claims to be a brother-in-law to the chief justice of the supreme court of Pennsylvania.

The Passing of J. Arquett.

John Arquett, of Snipe Hill, was before Judge Bennett in the circuit court this morning, his case coming up with that of Hawley and others, when the criminal calendar was called. Arquett is charged with receiving stolen goods, which same, or some of them, were found under the bed at his Snipe Hill home. District Attorney Jackson entered a nolle to the first count, and Arquett, by his attorney, John Cunningham, entered a plea of guilty to the second count. Judge Bennett then sentenced Arquett to six and one-half months in the county jail.

Arquett has been in jail since he was arrested last August, but looks none the worse for his confinement. Hunt and King, the men from whom Arquett got the stolen goods, are now serving three year sentences at Waupun.

J. M. Mowers pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery and was sentenced to five days in jail.

The case of the state vs. Jones was continued for the term.

FINAL CALL COMES TO L. B. REYNOLDS

WELL KNOWN CITIZEN IS NOW AT REST.

Manager of the Janesville Machine Company Finally Succumbs to Bright's Disease, His Death Occurring at His Home Last Evening After a Long Illness.

L. B. Reynolds, one of Janesville's most respected citizens died at his home 254 South Jackson street, at seven o'clock Sunday evening, after an extended illness. Mr. Reynolds was born in Cedarville, N. Y. in 1841, where his father lived on a farm. At his father's death in 1858, being the eldest son, he left Fairfield Seminary, where he was attending school, and took charge of the home farm, remaining there until his marriage in 1867. His wife was Remanda M. Spaulding of Richfield Springs, N. Y. One year later they moved to Batavia, in the valley of Fox River, Illinois. Three sons were born to them, the eldest dying in infancy and Frank S. and Charles H. with their mother, surviving their father. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds later moved to Aurora, Illinois, where he was engaged in a manufacturing business in the firm of J. J. Budlong & Co. He entered the employ of the Janesville Machine Co. as agent for Illinois in 1886 and in 1888 came to Janesville as general manager of the company, where he has since resided. Mr. Reynolds was a man whose personal integrity and ability were much honored among his business associates and he was of kind and noble character in his private life. To his sons no greater legacy than their father's example could possibly have been left.

Mr. Reynolds had been an uncompromising sufferer and manifested a spirit of unusual heroism to the last. Death resulted from Bright's disease. The funeral services will be held at the house on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Those who wish to see the face of their friend again may come to the home on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

George E. Cowan.

George E. Cowan died at his home 33 Ruger Avenue, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, aged eighty six years. He had been ill but a few days, old age being the cause of his demise.

Mr. Cowan was born in Scipio, Cayuga county, N. Y., Aug. 14, 1811. He settled in Rock county in June, 1838, and took up a claim. He was married in Dec. 1846 and wife died in 1850.

Mr. Cowan was the first white man married in the town of Fulton. He was able to be about until Thursday. He was the last of a family of nine children.

The funeral will be held from the home at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, and the interment will be made at Edgerton. Rev. E. H. Pence will conduct the exercises.

Charles W. Lawrence.

Charles W. Lawrence died at his home on Chestnut street at 12:25 o'clock Sunday morning, aged 39 years. Mr. Lawrence had been sick but five days with pneumonia but the disease sapped his strength rapidly, and death soon came to his relief. He had been in the employ of the Janesville Machine company for six years and was highly spoken of by all. He leaves a wife and six small children. Five brothers and his father, Linford Lawrence, who resides at 208 South River street, also survive him. The funeral will be held from the home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. H. W. Thompson will officiate and the interment will be made at the Town of Janesville cemetery.

William Leggett.

William Leggett, a well known Beloit man, is dead. Mr. Leggett served in the war as a driver in Company A 35th Wisconsin Infantry. His funeral was held today.

Tostin Nelson.

Tostin Nelson, a resident of Clinton since 1836 died on Friday at the age of 91. He leaves an only son who resides there and a widow.

Correct Brain Cells.

Various Food Effect.

There comes times in one's life when it well repays to take a personal inventory to see what necessary to make life more of a success. It is frequently found that some physical disability stands in the way and robs of the exercise of our powers. This is particularly true of the brain, whose delicate mechanism is easily affected by certain habits of food or drink. Coffee for instance is a peculiar narcotic drug, and directly affects the heart, stomach, and brain in a detrimental manner, as any skilled physician will attest.

The delicate brain cells upon which we depend for skillful thinking and planning, cannot proceed properly with their work if interfered with and improperly nourished. Postum Food Coffee furnishes the food element needed to rebuild the gray matter in brain and nerve cells. If it is properly boiled full 15 minutes after boiling commences it is delicious. Persons who decline to leave off the use of coffee entirely will find much benefit arise from using half Postum in their coffee and are generally won over to Postum, entirely, when the result in bodily and mental vigor is observed.

The market is flooded with imitations composed of various things, and a per centage of cheap coffee to give taste. Care should be observed in regard to what goes into the human stomach.

DEPOSITORS WANT ANOTHER RECEIVER

EDGERTON PEOPLE TO MAKE REQUEST.

Dispatches Say They Will Ask That George G. Sutherland of This City Be Placed In Charge of the Bank's Affairs—They Seek An Accounting.

A dispatch from Edgerton to the Chicago Times-Herald says that depositors in the Bank of Edgerton will try to ascertain what has become of their missing money, estimated to amount to $200,000.

The bank is now in the hands of a receiver, but many depositors think he is not vigorous enough in bringing the cashier and the directors to an accounting, and they will ask his removal and the appointment of George C. Sutherland, a Janesville banker and lawyer, in his place. They also threaten to institute criminal proceedings against the bank officials if a satisfactory accounting cannot be secured.

The depositors say developments since the bank closed show that it has been practically insolvent for ten years. They assert that ten years ago a sum exceeding $60,000 was lost by the bank through board of trade speculations, that this loss was concealed by manipulation of the books, and finally that other speculation brings the shortage up to the estimated $200,000.

Did a Big Business.

The bank did an enormous business for a country town financial institution. Located in the center of the tobacco district, it handled funds yearly estimated to amount to $1,000,000. With this heavy business, depositors charge, it was not difficult so to manipulate the books.

The community is amazed at the charges against Mr. Barnham. When the bank was started in 1880 he entered its employ as a clerk and soon rose to the position of cashier. Practically the entire management of the institution developed upon him, and he held the implicit confidence of the many business men with whom he came in contact. He is 43 years old and a native of Michigan, but came to this state with his father when a mere lad. Before coming to Edgerton he had been employed at Whitewater and at Evansville, in both of which places he is well known.

The Depositors Meet.

At a meeting of the depositors held at Edgerton, Saturday night, the above dispatch was confirmed in part. Four hundred depositors were present. It was declared to be the sense of the meeting that another receiver be named, and the meeting directed a committee to ask for his removal.

Agitation that L. S. Harks, the Madison banker be recommended as the receiver was voted down.

The matter of the new receiver was then left in the hands of the committee.

Attorneys Charles E. Pierce, and George G. Sutherland, of this city, and J. B. Doe, of Milwaukee, attended the meeting. Attorneys Pierce and Doe appeared for clients who had deposits in the bank, while Attorney Sutherland has been assisting the committee in getting up a report.

Mrs. C. E. HUBBARD and Miss A. Crow, of Darlington, are guests of Mrs. J. H. Nicholson.

A BALLADE OF PARTED LIVES.

Fitnes, a song above the tides,
Above the wintry winds that blow,
Above the wave that quickly glides
And dashes madly to and fro,
Sing me of other days to know.
Of souls that in a garden reap
Their wage of duty done below.
Loose thou these memories in sleep!

Tell me what dark, eternal ides
Across that space their shadows throw,
Clouding the happy light that rides
Unto these lands of pain and woe.
Brother and sister gone, forego
Fairy hilltops and valleys deep.
Come, or, if this be never so,
Loose ye these memories in sleep!

Ah, well, a splendid city hides
The little boy of long ago!
Beneath a village church wall bides
A slender mound above the snow,
And thus the fleet years come and go.
Poor hands of mine that cannot keep
Backward the water's ebb and flow.
Loose ye these memories in sleep.

ENVOI.

Princess, for all the world besides
Guard yet the times that softly creep
Over dead childhood's loves and brides.
Loose thou these memories in sleep!
—John James Meehan in New York Sun.

THE REASON WHY.

"I always wonder why it is you have never married, Dick?"

It was Emily who had said these words some half an hour ago, and Dick had found no answer for them, and he sits by the fire and ponders over them mightily, trying to find if there be an answer. Dick is five and forty, tall, robust, with a rather handsome face and florid complexion, and with bright golden brown hair, but just where it makes little crinkles above his ears it has tiny silver threads running through it—an even race now between the gold and silver, but in these days of bimetalism who shall answer for the future?

He is a very personable man, a true, honest, good fellow, rather slow at grasping an idea, but when he has grasped it it is sure to become a serviceable, clean idea. Dick's grasp, firm and strong, would always purge it of any vice or vulgarity it might have possessed before. He now sits quite alone in the comfortable library of his sister's house. He smokes a pipe and thinks over that sister's question, "I always wonder why it is you have never married, Dick?"

Then a curious thing happens. As the smoke of his pipe rises up in thick black clouds he looks quite through it back to the year 1867 and sees himself again as a boy of 20, just before he first sailed for India—a such a jovial, noisy sort of boy, with a ready smile and pleasant word for every one, just now much excited at the prospect of the new life which is to begin with the voyage tomorrow.

He is just entering a ballroom with a friend of about his own age. ("Jack Dufford, who died in China," murmurs Dick of today.) It is a very large ballroom, brilliantly lighted and decorated with flowers and evergreens. It must be a regimental ball, for there are colors stacked at one end. Dick of today tries to make them out, but quite fails, and so turns his attention to what Jack Dufford is saying to Dick of 1867.

"I want you to dance with my little sister Kitty. It is her first dance, and she's the dearest little thing going." And he puts his arm through Dick of 1867's and takes him across the room to where there stands a girl in white muslin, such a dainty, fresh white muslin, with little blue bowknots dotted over it, and this is all that Dick of 1867 sees as he makes his bow, but when he raises his head again he meets such a sweet, dancing pair of brown eyes looking at him from such a pretty, bright face, with a whole mass of light fluffy hair above and around it, and later when he puts his arm around her and they dance and he looks down into the hair he sees a wee wreath of blue forgetmenots half lost and very tightly imprisoned in its glittering meshes. It is almost Dick of 1867's first ball, too, and he thoroughly enjoys it, but none of the figures are plain to Dick of today save only the white muslin and blue bowknot one. Talking and dancing with it seem to fill up the whole evening, and then, when the end comes, Dick of 1867 rolls it up, oh, so tenderly, in a warm, white shawl, and Dick of today feels his heart beat quicker as a little hand is put into that old Dick's hand and a low girlish voice says:

"Well, good night and goodbye, Mr. Kenneth. I hope you will like India." Then Dick of 1867 goes home, and he feels nervously excited and cannot sleep and thinks it must be from the uncertainty of liking India.

The tobacco smoke clears off and our Dick wonders why such an old, quiet buried memory should revive tonight, but he has not much time for wondering, for as fresh smoke rises up he sees fresh figures forming themselves behind it. Still himself, but older, browner and more manly Dick, this time of 1872. A ball again, evidently in a private house. There is a wide flight of stairs, off it at one side a conservatory filled with flowers and at its top a wide landing, with the ballroom opening bright, noisy and joyous behind it.

In the doorway stands the hostess, welcoming her guests. Dick of today tries to distinguish her features, but they elude him just as the colors had a few minutes before. He passes on into the room. Again all the figures are blurred, until he comes quite to the upper end, immediately beneath the big hanging lamp, where there stands a very distinct one in white silk and a quantity of soft white tulle, who has her back turned and displays a very fair head with a bunch of pink moss roses at one side. Dick of 1872 speaks, and the figure turns and looks at him with a little uncertainty at first, and then a gradual, pleased look of recognition comes to her face—that same sweet face, with its warm, brown eyes.

Dick of 1872 thinks five years have passed very lightly, leaving behind them only a touch of dignity and womanliness in place of the almost childishness. She is, in fact, improved by them, and so thinks Dick of today.

Dick of 1872 dances three times with "my little sister Kitty," and the third time she is carried away from him by a very tall, dark, handsome man, with a small pointed black beard. He watches them, and a voice at his elbow says "What a jolly couple they make! He is old Lord Easton's nephew, and they are to be married next week, you know. Dick of 1872 goes home, and in the morning comes to the conclusion that he had taken too much champagne, for he had dreamed all night that his love was of gold hung over with pink roses, and, turn as he would, he could find no door to escape from the heart-scent of them, which maddened him and the touch of them, which thrilled him with joy and sorrow, pleased and passionate pain mixed.

The smoke clears off again, but Dick of today has ceased to wonder, and now waits, expecting more, uncomprehending, however. Very soon more comes, still Dick, still a ballroom, Dick of 1880, and quite a different ballroom, with quite a different atmosphere, and different tone about it; many men, fewer women than heretofore, but all the latter are most beautifully dressed, and most of the former are in uniform.

"Government House, Calcutta," thinks Dick of today, and he instinctively looks about him for the well known figure which he now expects to come, but it is not there. Dick of 1880 is talking to Cranter. ("Poor old Cranter! Went under just ten years ago," comments Dick of today.) Cranter says: "I am going to introduce you to the most lovely little woman, clever, charming, everything desirable. Her husband never looks at her, passes all his time in England with Sibyl Ruby, and all his time here with Mrs. Major Golightly." Dick of 1880 and Cranter make their way through the crowd into another room where there is no dancing, and seated in a low chair, in a listless attitude, is a lady in white. Dick of 1880 goes straight up to her and says, "I hope I don't need an introduction to 'Mrs.'—and then pauses—"Mortou," she finishes for him.

He sits beside her. She is much more splendidly dressed than ever before, all in white satin, finely embroidered with silver, and there are diamonds scintillating in the burnished gold of her hair. But, oh, the change, think both the Dicks. The face is thinner and less bright, the mouth is sweet and red, but has a pitiful droop at the corners, and the clear brown eyes are sad with unshed tears, but they look very kindly on Dick of 1880. And Dick of 1880 talks a long time to her; his heart is filled with a deep, passionate pity.

Finally they are interrupted by the tall, dark, handsome man with the pointed black beard, who is not perfectly sober. As he comes up the lady says: "This is Captain Kenneth, Devereux. I met him at my first ball."

Dick of 1880 only bows and moves away, and Dick of today looks at the fading mist of tobacco smoke, and even when it has cleared, for the good reason that his pipe is out, there is a little mist, as of an autumn evening, between him and the fire. He is not uncomprehending any longer and knows now the answer to his sister's question. He rises and takes up his candle, saying: "And I never knew it till tonight. Verily I am a slow man."—Daughter.

Thackeray's Kindness.

Payn knew Thackeray intimately, and has some entertaining reminiscences of his editorial troubles when Thackeray presided over the fortunes of The Cornhill Magazine. Communications from his contributors, and especially the would be ones, annoyed and often distressed him. Payn recalls his complaining of one of them with a vigor and irritation which amused him exceedingly. A young fellow had sent him a long story, for which he demanded particular attention "from the greatest of novelists" upon the ground that he had a sick sister entirely dependent upon him for support. Thackeray was touched by the appeal, and, contrary to his custom, wrote his correspondent a long letter of advice, inclosing also—which was by no means contrary to his custom—some pecuniary assistance. "I feel for your position," he said, "and appreciate your motive for exertion, but I must tell you at once that you will never do anything in literature. Your contribution is worthless in every way, and it is the truest kindness both to her for whom you are working and to yourself to tell you so straight. Turn your mind at once to some other industry."

This produced a reply from the young man that astonished Thackeray a great deal more than it surprised Payn. It was couched in the most offensive terms conceivable and ended by telling the "great novelist" that, although he had attained by good luck to the top of the tree, he would one day find himself where he deserved to be, at the bottom of it. "For my part," said Thackeray (upon Payn showing some preliminary symptoms of suffocation), "I see little to laugh at. What a stupid, ungrateful beast the man must be! If ever I waste another half hour in writing to a creature of that sort, call me a horse or worse!"—People.

"Don't you speak to Mrs. Brown any more?"
"No, indeed. I've found her out at last."
"What's the matter?"
"Her talk about sprockets and handle bars was all put on. She has no wheel."

The New Lake Shore Limited.

It is believed that perfection in car construction has been reached in the equipment of this train. The New York sleeper, for example, is composed of ten sections and two staterooms. Two of the sections at each end of the car are separated by partitions, thereby making them almost as exclusive as staterooms. One of the staterooms in this car is upholstered in red silk tapestry with draperies, carpet, etc., to harmonize. The other stateroom is upholstered in light green tapestry, with green draperies, etc. to correspond. The staterooms have the usual annexes and accommodations. The car has also an elegantly combined smoking and washroom. It is very richly inlaid, upholstered in plain olive-green plush, and draped with rich silk draperies. One particular beautiful feature of this room, as also of the ladies' toilet room, are mirrors over the wash stand. The inlaid work is of very exquisite design, and the frame work is supported by turned columns, brass caps and bases, the columns being inlaid with running vines. The car is built entirely of mahogany finished with inlaid work and mosaic lines. It is remarkable for its plain, natural effect, there being no mouldings, and entirely plain services are seen in all directions. The doors are of solid wood, broken with inlaid lines and mosaic work. The ceilings are dome shape, the high lights being ornamented with gold. The upholstery of the body of the car is an olive green, special pattern. The general style of decoration is known as the Coolidge inlaid design.

The Limited leaves Chicago every day at 5:30 p. m., reaching New York at 6:30 p. m., Boston 9:05 p. m., next day. J. B. HURLEY T. P. A., 100 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee, Wis.

FASHIONABLE NOVELTIES.

A Most Sensible Fashion—Cloth Costumes and Trimming.

The latest skirts are decidedly shorter, not touching the ground at all, and this is a most sensible fashion for walking skirts, especially in winter. Skirts are little trimmed as yet in spite of various efforts to introduce elaborate decoration. In silk and fancy wool they are frequently entirely plain. Cloth costumes often show the skirt ornamented with bias bands of velvet, galloon, passementerie or fur. Applications of cloth, velvet or fur usually form a contrast to the ground on which they appear, and short pile fur, such as astrakhan, caracul and beaver, are preferred for such decoration. Beaver is rather out of date, however.

The galleons employed for trimming are of all varieties. Some are plain, others spangled or beaded; still others imitate byzantine or Russian embroidery. These galleons are arranged in many fanciful ways. They may form Greek borders, motifs, squares, lozenges, stripes or circles. They may be placed crosswise or lengthwise. In fact, there is ample room for individual taste to exert itself.

BICYCLE SACK.

With bodies differing from the skirt in color the skirt worn is usually of black silk or satin. This is now considered less "dressed" than costumes of the same material and color throughout, but the separate bodice fashion is too convenient and becoming to be allowed to sink into obscurity yet, and many individual corsages are still seen.

The newest thing for bicycle wear in Paris is a short sack to be carried on long excursions as a protection against possible rain or cold winds. It is of plaid waterproof cloth, and is quite straight, both in the back and in front. It is provided with an adjustable hood lined with satin, which may be drawn up over the hat. The sack is fastened with horn buttons and brandebourgs and is edged all around with a bias band of velvet.

WINTER STYLES.

Curling and Crimping—Minor Gossip Concerning Dress and Etiquette.

The use of curling and crimping irons sometimes causes the hair to fall out. These instruments should be employed with great care, and should never be allowed to touch the hair when they are very hot, as excessive heat is drying and deadening. It is possible to use irons without causing the least injury to the hair, but they must be used with judgment. Artificial curls are never desirable for children. If their locks do not curl naturally, it is better to allow them to remain straight.

Short and very thick boas are worn. Blue is a favorite color this winter, especially for young girls. Medium and deep shades are those preferred, but navy blue, being dull in tint, is not much seen. Short fur capes of last season's style may be brought up to date by the addition of a border and velvet collar of fur. Now that two different furs are so frequently combined, such methods of rejuvenation do not give the effect of a makeshift. Chin-chilla is the favorite trimming for fur.

The most elegant and fashionable stationery is pale in tint—cream, mauve or pearl gray. The cipher which ornaments it is of a deeper shade of the same color or of silver. Preferably no scent is employed, but if any be used it must be exceedingly faint and delicate.

CALLING COSTUME.

The princess gown is gaining ground, and many models for rich winter costumes are made in this style. The bodice is often draped and trimmed with bouffant decoration. A scarf, fastened at the side, is frequently seen.

Today's picture illustrates a costume of mauve broche silk. The skirt is trimmed with scant ruffles of mauve velvet, which are carried up obliquely at each side of the tablier. The bodice is gathered on a yoke of renaissance guipure, a bolero being formed by ruffles of mauve velvet. The close sleeves of silk have epaulets composed of velvet ruffles. The collar and belt are of mandarin yellow velvet. A toque of mauve velvet, trimmed with mauve velvet flowers having a yellow center, accompanies this gown. JUDIC CHOLLET.

A Little More Cost Brings Big Profits.

The addressing, folding, inclosing, sealing and stamping of five thousand circulars, with postage, will cost at least $65, whether the circular is good or bad. Notwithstanding this fixed charge, some strive to save a dollar or two on the cost of printing, although the goods advertised are to be judged by the character of the printing, just as a house is judged by the character of its salesmen. Good printing costs but little more, and that "little more" brings greater returns than any other part of the cost. Order your printing where good work is assured.

Good Printing...

Is like good painting—it demands and obtains a second glance. The second glance leads to thought about and knowledge of the thing portrayed, and then on to the artist or advertiser.

The kind of printing as well as the kind of painting that it pays to do and to have done is that which obtains this "second glance." Plenty of the other kind!

We are PRINTERS. Our work obtains glances of admiration, and thus leads on to the end desired. We don't do the "other kind." Put our job room to the test.
